Introduction

Established in 1983, the Lauterpacht Centre for International Law is a centre for the study of international law at the University of Cambridge; it is the premier centre in the UK for research in the field of international law. In this role, it seeks to provide both a framework and forum for critical and constructive thought about the function, content and working of law in the international community, as well as to develop an appreciation of international law as an applied body of rules and principles. A number of those associated with the Centre are actively involved in the practical development and application of international law.

The Centre is not involved in the formal teaching or supervision of enrolled students of the University: this is the responsibility of the Faculty of Law, of which the Centre is part. The Director, Deputy Director and other Fellows of the Centre, in their role as members of the Faculty, are actively involved in teaching and research supervision. The Centre provides a regular forum for lectures and seminars and other forms of small-group teaching.

2005/6 Highlights

Visit from the Bahrain Royal Family

On 20 September 2005, the Centre had the pleasure of welcoming Her Highness Shaikha Sabeeka bint Ebrahim Al Khalifa, wife of His Majesty the King of Bahrain. Her Highness was shown the newly developed Centre facilities at Bahrain House, the development of which was made possible thanks to an exceptionally generous gift from the King of Bahrain in appreciation of work done by Sir Elihu Lauterpacht in the Qatar v. Bahrain Case before the International Court of Justice.

Centre Director Appointed FCO Legal Adviser

Mr Daniel Bethlehem, QC, Director of the Centre since 2003, has been appointed Legal Adviser to the Foreign and Commonwealth Office in succession to Sir Michael Wood. Daniel resigned as Director of the Lauterpacht Centre at the end of April in order to take up his new appointment and will be greatly missed by all in Cambridge. The Centre thanks Daniel for the long and valued contribution he has made to the Centre and wishes him every success.

Centre Objectives

The specific objectives of the Centre are:

- ▶ to serve as a discussion forum for current issues by organising seminars, lectures and meetings aimed at developing both an understanding of international law and solutions to current problems;
- ▶ to promote research and publication in international law, including the publication of core research materials;
- ▶ to provide in Cambridge an intellectual home for scholars of international law from all over the world who wish to pursue their research in an atmosphere that is stimulating and congenial to the generation and exchange of ideas;
- ▶ to provide education and training programs of the highest quality to external institutions under special arrangements made with those institutions;
- ▶ to maintain a library of materials relating to international law.

Directorship of the Centre

Daniel Bethlehem QC was Director of the Centre from 2003 to April 2006, when he was appointed Legal Adviser to the Foreign & Commonwealth Office. During his time as Director, Daniel made an invaluable contribution to the Centre, progressing the development of the Centre's infrastructure and extending the lecture program to include more reflective seminars, such as the series of public 'conversations' involving participants from both sides of the Israel-Palestine issue.

Professor James Crawford SC, FBA, LLD resumed as Centre Director in April 2006 following Daniel Bethlehem's departure. He is the Whewell Professor of International Law at the University of Cambridge and was Chair of the Faculty of Law from 2003-6. James has an extensive practice in international law and international arbitration and is the author/editor of numerous publications. The second edition of his book The Creation of States in International Law was published by OUP in 2006.

Professor Sir Elihu Lauterpacht, CBE, QC, was Founder Director of the Centre from 1983 until his retirement in 1995. Now Emeritus Director, he remains closely involved in the work of the Centre and sits on the Management Committee. Eli's professional work includes his presidency of the Eritrea-Ethiopia Boundary Commission, which is charged with delimiting and demarcating the boundary between the two States.

Dr Roger O'Keefe has been Deputy Director of the Centre since 2003 and is currently Academic Secretary of the Faculty of Law. He teaches international law and international criminal law. His book, The Protection of Cultural Property in Armed Conflict, is due to be released as a title in the Cambridge Studies in International and Comparative Law series in November 2006.

Dr Charlotte Ku has been appointed Acting Director of the Centre from 1 October 2006 for six months whilst James Crawford is away on sabbatical leave. Charlotte is a Senior Fellow of the American Society of International Law having served her term as ASIL Executive Director and Executive Vice-President immediately prior to coming to Cambridge. We look forward to developments at the Centre under her leadership.

Accommodation & Facilities

The Lauterpacht Centre is located in a fine Victorian family house set in its own attractive garden at No. 5 Cranmer Road. In 1996 a new wing was constructed, which now houses the Finley Library on the ground floor, with the Snyder Study Room and two individual offices on the floor above. In June 2002 the Centre acquired from Trinity College the adjoining premises at No. 7 Cranmer Road which, following a major process of renovation, now contains eight ensuite bedrooms, a large communal kitchen, laundry facilities, a large individual office and a large conference style room. Both development projects were made possible thanks to generous funding from our benefactors and in particular Mrs Tom Finley, Dr Earl Snyder, Trinity College and the King of Bahrain. The Centre is enormously grateful to them all.

The Lauterpacht Centre was the beneficiary of several donations throughout the year, including a generous donation of £40,000 from Trinity College to put towards the construction of the link between the Centre's two buildings.

The Lauterpacht Centre's kitchen at No. 5 Cranmer Road was refitted over the 2005/6 Christmas period, converting it into a fully modern kitchen facility of benefit in particular to visiting fellows staying in the building and attendees at the Centre's regular coffee mornings.

Centre Library

The Centre's library contains some 5000 materials, including pleadings, journals, reports and monographs. Most of the library's materials have been donated, but the Centre maintains subscriptions to core international law journals. In 2006 the Centre's library underwent reorganization in an effort to create more shelf space for its valuable and ever expanding collection of materials.

Generous donations of materials have been received throughout year, particularly from the visiting and senior fellows of the Centre. Notable acquisitions include:

- ▶ A complete 42 volume set of 'Trial of the major war criminals before the International Military Tribunal, Nuremberg, 14 November 1945 - 1 October 1946'
- ▶ A complete set of the Military Law and Law of War Review from the library of the late Gerald Draper, supplemented from Tony Roger's own collection.

A number of visiting fellows kindly donated copies of books they had written, including:

- ▶ Whistleblowing around the world: law, culture and practice from Richard Calland
- ▶ Law and Politics in Ocean Governance: the UN Fish Stocks Agreement and Regional Fisheries Management Regimes from Tore Henriksen
- ▶ Corporations and Transnational Human Rights Litigation from Sarah Joseph
- ▶ Prior Consultation Procedures in International Environmental Law from Mari Koyano
- ▶ Australian Native Title Law from Melissa Perry
- ▶ Women, The Koran and International Human Rights Law from Niaz Shah

Centre Publications

In affiliation with Cambridge University Press, the Lauterpacht Centre prepares, edits and sponsors a wide range of publications in international law, including texts and law reports. Reports published by the Centre itself are managed by Karen Lee, the Centre's Publications Director with assistance from Tara Grant as Publications Assistant.

The International Law Reports are the only series wholly devoted to the regular and systematic reporting in English of decisions of international courts and arbitrators as well as judgments of national courts. It continues as the Centre's major series, under the editorship of Sir Elihu Lauterpacht and Professor Christopher Greenwood, with Andrew Oppenheimer as Associate Editor and Karen Lee as Assistant Editor. The most recent volume published to date is volume 127, which appeared in 2006. Volume 128 is currently in production.

The ICSID Reports contain decisions rendered by arbitral tribunals and ad hoc committees set up within the framework of the International Centre for the Settlement of Investment Disputes established pursuant to the ICSID Convention and other related decisions. Volume 9 was published in February 2006 and volumes 10, 11, 12 are currently in press.

The International Environmental Law Reports series consists of five volumes. The first four volumes, Early Decisions, Trade and Environment, Human Rights and Environment, and International Environmental Law in National Courts, were published between 1999 and 2004. The final volume, International Environmental Law in International Tribunals, is currently in press and due to appear late Spring 2007.

The Iran-US Claims Tribunal Reports series was initiated by the Centre, with the co-operation of the Tribunal Secretariat, to provide a permanent record of the decisions and awards of the Iran-US Claims Tribunal. Volumes 35, 36 and 37 were published during the academic year.

The Cambridge Studies in International and Comparative Law is a broad-based series of monographs in international and comparative law co-edited by John Bell and James Crawford. Initially started in 1946, it was renewed in 1994 and now features about fifty titles. Seven titles have been published in the last academic year:

- ▶ Bell, John, Judiciaries within Europe: a comparative review (No. 47)
- ▶ Lindblom, Anna-Karin, Non-Governmental Organizations in International Law (No. 43)
- ▶ Wheatley, Steven, Democracy, Minorities and International Law (No. 42)
- ▶ Khee-Jin Tan, Alan, Vessel-Source Marine Pollution (No. 45)
- ▶ Tams, Christian J, Enforcing Obligations Erga Omnes in International Law (No. 44)
- ▶ Delmas-Marty, Mireille and Spencer, John (eds.), European Criminal Procedures (No. 25)
- ▶ Provost, René, International Human Rights and Humanitarian Law (No. 22)

Ten further volumes are currently in production and are due to be published in 2006/7.

The Hersch Lauterpacht Memorial Lecture Series started in 1983 and publishes studies based on the annual series of lectures given at the Centre by distinguished scholars and practitioners to commemorate the life and work of Sir Hersch Lauterpacht. There are currently 18 titles in the series, two of which were published this year:

- ▶ Jackson, John H, Sovereignty, the WTO and Changing Fundamentals of International Law
- ▶ Paulsson, Jan, Denial of Justice in International Law

Conferences & Meetings

The Centre is the venue for many meetings, formal and informal, from inside and outside the University. Inquiries on availability should be made first to Anita Rutherford (admin@rcil.cam.ac.uk).

The Foreign & Commonwealth Office International Law Course was again hosted by the Centre in September 2006. The week-long intensive international law course was chaired by Dame Audrey Glover CMG and the majority of participants were FCO diplomats. Course presenters included a number of members of the Centre and, as in previous years, the participants were warm in their praise for the Centre and the Course.

Centre Lectures

This year's lectures covered a wide range of topics. Friday lunchtime lectures included matters such as extraordinary rendition, terrorism and collective responsibility, the resolution of sporting disputes, multinational corporations and human rights and the ILC's draft articles on diplomatic protection. The Thursday evening 'conversation' sessions involving participants from both sides of the Israel-Palestine issue were of particular note. Kendall Freeman Solicitors kindly undertook sponsorship of the accompanying sandwiches and lectures were well attended throughout the academic year. The lecture programme for the year appears as Appendix III.

The Hersch Lauterpacht Memorial Lectures entitled 'American Legal Thinking and International Law: A French Perspective' were given by Judge Jean-Pierre Cot of the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea on 14, 15 and 16 February 2006. The lectures will be published by Cambridge University Press as part of the Hersch Lauterpacht Memorial Lecture Series. The 2006/7 Lauterpacht lectures will be given by Sir Michael Wood KCMG QC from 7–9 November 2006 on the subject of The UN Security Council and International Law.

The Snyder Lecture Programme was set up by Dr Earl Snyder to enable one speaker to travel either from Cambridge to the Bloomington School of Law at Indiana University or vice versa. On 23 March 2005 Dr Jillaine Seymour of Sidney Sussex College delivered the Snyder Lecture at the Bloomington School on the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea. As with previous Snyder Lectures, the lecture is published in the Indiana Journal of Global Legal Studies.

Visiting Fellows & Scholars

A total of 36 visiting fellows and scholars came to the Centre in the 2005/06 academic year. Visits ranged from a few weeks to the maximum two-year visit. The additional facilities provided by Bahrain House meant that a significant number of the Centre's visiting fellows stayed at No. 7 Cranmer Road. The list of visiting fellows and scholars for the academic year appears as Appendix I.

Throughout the year visiting fellows and scholars held weekly closed sessions, presenting research and providing a forum for discussion and debate. A list of presentations held in 2006 during these sessions appears as Appendix II.

In addition to their high levels of academic endeavour, the visiting fellows organized several informal social events throughout the year, including a world cup party, a Eurovision party and several summer barbeques, contributing to the Centre's lively atmosphere.
