Annual Report 2019-20

This report gives an overview of activities and events that took place at the Lauterpacht Centre for International Law during the period 1 October 2019 - 30 September 2020.

The specific objectives of the Centre are:

- to serve as a discussion forum for current issues by organising seminars, lectures and meetings aimed at developing an understanding of international law;
- to promote research and publication in international law, including the publication of core research materials;
- to provide, in Cambridge, an intellectual home for scholars of international law from all over the world who wish to pursue their research in an atmosphere that is stimulating and congenial to the generation and exchange of ideas;
- to provide education and training programmes of the highest quality to external institutions under special arrangements made with those institutions;
- to maintain a library of materials relating to international law.
This report describes our activities during two very different periods – before and after Covid. During the first phase, the Centre was bustling with activities, carrying on previous projects and traditions and starting new ones. We benefited from the presence of thirty visiting fellows, scholars and practitioners from several backgrounds and legal traditions (see facing page). This period culminated in yet another successful series of lectures under the auspices of the Sir Hersch Lauterpacht Memorial Lecture, given this year by Professor Mikael Rask Madsen from the iCourts Center in the University of Copenhagen.

With the onset of the Covid pandemic, the building was shut down and we moved to online activities, including the inauguration of a new blog on the Centre’s website for Centre Fellows and invited contributors.

We are always grateful for comments and suggestions that help us improve our work.

Professor Eyal Benvenisti
LCIL Director

During the last academic year the Centre has continued to serve as a global hub of activities and studies, combining scholarship and practice, history and theory of international law.

As always, we benefit from geographic diversity by successfully involving in our activities scholars and practitioners from East and West, North and South.
2019 –20 Highlights

The Eli Lauterpacht Lecture 2019

‘Taking Teaching Seriously: How to Teach Treaty Interpretation’

Professor Joseph Weiler, NYU Law School

11 October 2019

The Eli Lauterpacht Lecture was established after Sir Eli’s death in 2017 to celebrate his life and work, and takes place on the first Friday at the start of the Michaelmas Term in any academic year.

This year’s lecture was given by Professor Joseph Weiler, University Professor at NYU Law School and Senior Fellow at the Center for European Studies at Harvard. Until recently he served as President of the European University Institute, Florence. Prof. Weiler is Co-Editor-in-Chief of the European Journal of International Law (EJIL) and the International Journal of Constitutional Law (IIRON).

Lecture summary: For many years now Research & Scholarship have become the Alpha and Omega of academic life. Think of the Research Excellence Framework and the cascading effect it has had on the life of UK universities. Think of all other forms of rankings, institutional and individual, which try (miserably) to quantify quality of research, institutional and individual and the effect this has on the recruitment of staff and students and on the career paths of young scholars. Think of money – public funding, research grants and the like and the impact this, mammon, has on academic life. Though we continue to pay lip service to the importance of teaching, nobody can question that it ranks much lower in how we rank academic excellence.

These lectures are kindly supported by Dr and Mrs Ivan Berkowitz who are Friends of the Centre.

Roundtable Discussion:

‘Business and Human Rights in Domestic Courts - Contemporary Developments and Future Prospects’

6 December 2019

This well-attended panel discussion was organised and chaired by Dr Andrew Sanger, University Lecturer and LCIL Fellow.

The expert panellists discussed recent developments in UK courts, including legal and policy implications of the Supreme Court’s decision in Vedanta Resources (which paved the way for Zambian citizens to bring tort claims in English courts against UK-based Vedanta Resources) and the forthcoming Supreme Court appeal involving claims against Royal Dutch Petroleum in respect of environmental harm alleged to have been caused by its Nigerian subsidiary.

The invited speakers were:

• Richard Hermer QC, Barrister, Matrix Chambers and counsel for the Respondents in the Vedanta Resources case before the UK Supreme Court
• Julianne Hughes-Jennett, Partner, Quinn Emanuel Urquhart & Sullivan, LLP
• Dr Axel Marx, University of Leuven, Deputy Director of the Leuven Centre for Global Governance Studies
• Dr Tara Van Ho, University of Essex, Lecturer and Leader of the Business and Human Rights Project at Essex, and Co-President of the Global Business and Human Rights Scholars Association.

Student Careers Event

Following this event, international law students were able to meet the Centre’s Linked Partners to gain an insight into working in the field of international law.
Sir Hersch Lauterpacht Memorial Lecture 2020

‘Human Rights and the Making of Europe: The European Court of Human Rights in the Grand Transformation’

Professor Mikael Rask Madsen, Faculty of Law, University of Copenhagen

Friday 6 March 2020

The Sir Hersch Lauterpacht Memorial Lecture is an annual three-part lecture series given in Cambridge to commemorate the unique contribution to the development of international law by Sir Hersch Lauterpacht. Due to industrial action these lectures took place on Friday 6 March 2020 at the Lauterpacht Centre. Topics covered were:

Legalizing Free Europe: Human Rights, Cold War and the Construction of the Post-War European Legal Order (1959-89)

The ECtHR in the New Europe (1989-2009)

The End of Consensus: The ECtHR in the Age of Megapolitics (2009-2019)

Mikael Rask Madsen is a professor of European Law and Integration at the Faculty of Law, University of Copenhagen, and the founder and director of iCourts, the Danish National Research Foundation’s Centre of Excellence for International Courts. Trained as a lawyer and political sociologists, his research has explores the globalization of law and the legal profession and its effects on new forms of institutions, notably international courts.

Authors’ Workshops

Each term the Centre organises authors’ workshops, in which LCIL Fellows discuss each other’s draft papers. It is beneficial in that authors receive constructive feedback on matters ranging from questions and structure to methodology and style from colleagues who bring together a broad array of approaches, fields and interests in international law. It is most inspiring because it is a wonderful experience to be impressed, over and over again, by the brightness, thoroughness, helpfulness and originality of one's colleagues.

The following authors’ workshops took place in the Lent term:

6 May 2020
Vigilantes Beyond Borders: NGOs as Enforcers of International Law - Joint presentation by Professor Jason Sharman and Dr Mette Eilstrup-Sangiovanni.

13 May 2020
Covid19 and Access to Medicines - Dr Henning Grosse Ruse-Khan and Visiting Goodhart Professor Rochelle Dreyfuss.

20 May 2020
Thinking about Hydrothermal Vents: Accidental Discovery, Vexing Liminality, and Worldmaking Possibility - Dr Surabhi Ranganathan.

27 May 2020
Why the WHO was not designed to fit its main purpose, why reforms ensured that it never succeeds, and can anything be done now? - Professor Eyal Benvenisti.

The discussions were fruitful and represented what the Lauterpacht Centre is all about: facilitating discussions among people who work on all corners of international law, and share an interest in what continues to connect all those corners.

Sir Hersch Lauterpacht Memorial Lectures 2- 5 March 2021

Susan Marks, Professor of International Law, London School of Economics

Sir Hersch Lauterpacht Memorial Lectures 15- 18 March 2022

Benedict Kingsbury, Vice Dean and Murry and Ida Becker Professor of Law; Director, Institute for International Law and Justice; Faculty Director, Guarini Institute for Global Legal Studies
Professor Nico Krisch awarded the first Max Planck-Cambridge Prize for International Law (MaxCamPIL)

On Friday 15 November 2019 Professor Nico Krisch, Professor of International Law and Co-director of the Global Governance Centre at the Graduate Institute in Geneva was awarded the first Max Planck-Cambridge Prize for International Law (MaxCamPIL) at a ceremony in Heidelberg, Germany. The Laudatio was given by Professor Eyal Benvenist, LCIL Director.

With the generous contribution of its supporting members, the Max Planck Society has established the Max Planck-Cambridge Prize for International Law (MaxCamPIL), a research prize which highlights the relevance of fundamental research in the field of international law. Its aim is to identify an outstanding mid-career legal scholar who has not only made an outstanding contribution to the study of international law but who is likely to continue to engage in substantial, innovative and cutting-edge research. It is intended to highlight and support his/her work and to provide a model of academic excellence for younger scholars.

Starting from 2019, the prize will be awarded every two years. The Selection Committee has eight members and is composed of one Director and three postdoctoral researchers from each institution. The award ceremony will take place alternately in Heidelberg and Cambridge respectively. A testimonial lecture of the winning scholar will be published in a scholarly journal of international law which will also acknowledge this prize. Within two years after the prize ceremony, the winning scholar is expected to visit one of the two institutions for a paid stay of one month. They are also expected to visit the respective other institution for a paid stay of at least five days and to hold a guest lecture or seminar.

This year’s Prize Committee, chaired by Professors Anne Peters and Eyal Benvenisti, was greatly impressed by the originality, rigour and broad range of Professor Krisch’s research, including original and field-defining contributions to the study of structural issues of international law, authority in global administrative law and questions of constitutional theory. Professor Krisch has made significant theoretical contributions to our understanding of governance beyond the state. His work is distinguished by his willingness to not only identify and theorise problems in international law and global governance but also to develop potential solutions. His research has strengthened the dialogue between the fields of international law, constitutional theory, and political science. Representing interdisciplinarity at its most fruitful, his work enriches international law in both substance and method.

Nico Krisch is a professor of international law and co-director of the Global Governance Centre at the Graduate Institute in Geneva.

Fellows’ Promotions and Appointments

Dr Fernando Bordin

Fernando is a University Lecturer in International Law, John Thornely Fellow in Law, Sidney Sussex College and a Fellow at the Centre. Fernando became an active member of the Centre’s Management Committee during 2019/20.

During the lockdown period, Fernando received the 2020 Certificate of Merit in a specialized area of international law by the American Society of International Law (ASIL) for his research monograph, The Analogy between States and International Organizations (CUP 2019).

Fernando’s book was unanimously recommended for the prize by the ASIL Book Awards Committee.

Dr Sarah Nouwen

Sarah Nouwen and her family have moved to Florence, Italy, where Sarah took up a chair in Public International Law at the European University Institute on 1 September 2020, for a period of 5 years. She will be on leave from Cambridge.

She will be supervising many PhD students, organising seminars with fellow Public International Law Professor Neha Jain, and trying to push her research on international law and peace talks.

Moving her many boxes of books out the Centre, Sarah commented: “This unique place, the Lauterpacht Centre for International Law, has been my scholarly home for more than 15 years. The act of packing up my office has made me only more appreciative of everything the Centre has given me: collegiality, community and an enormous amount of international law, in diverse forms and shapes. In Florence I hope to develop new courses for graduate students (beginning with one on “law” in “international law” and one on editing a law journal), become familiar with academic traditions other than the beloved Cambridge one, and to enjoy the surroundings with my family. Both LCIL and the EUI attract scholars from all over the world so I hope to see many LCIL friends in the Tuscan hills. I consider this a temporary move from one paradise to another.”

The Centre thanks Sarah for her wonderful contributions to the Centre and wish her the very best in her new role. We look forward to her returning to the Centre in the near future.

Dr Sandesh Sivakumaran

Sandesh joined the Lauterpacht Centre as a Fellow in the Lent Term 2020 when he took up his new position as Reader in International Law at the Faculty of Law.

Previously, Sandesh was Professor of Public International Law at the University of Nottingham and has been a non-resident research scholar at the United States Naval War College Stockton Center for International Law and has held visiting fellowships at Melbourne Law School and New York University School of Law.

Sandesh regularly trains diplomats, members of the armed forces, and UN entities on international law and the law of war. He is a member of the Bar of the State of New York. Sandesh holds an MA and PhD from the University of Cambridge and an LLM from New York University School of Law where he was a Hauser Global Scholar.

Sandesh takes over from Dr Sarah Nouwen as Co-Deputy Director of the Centre when she takes up a new position in Florence in September 2020.

Dr Rumiana Yotova

Rumi is University Lecturer in International Law, Fellow and Director of Studies in Law at Gonville & Caius College and is a Fellow of the Centre. Rumiana became an active member of the Centre’s Management Committee during 2019/20.

Dr Surabhi Ranganathan

Surabhi Ranganathan was promoted to University Senior Lecturer in October 2019, when she also succeeded Michael Waibel as a Co-Deputy Director of the Centre.

Surabhi will be on academic leave in 2020-2021, when she will spend part of the year as a Visiting Fellow at the Centre for History and Economics at Harvard University. She hopes to use the time to work on a new book, Unmaking the Ocean. She will jointly convene the CHE online seminar; and other workshops and events bringing together lawyers, historians, and economists.

During this period, Surabhi will continue her activities at the Lauterpacht Centre.
Friday Lunchtime Lecture Series

The Friday lunchtime lecture series held in the Finley Library at the Centre proved to be as popular as ever with contributions from a number of high profile speakers and good attendance.

Cambridge University Press continued their generous support of the Friday lunchtime lecture series.

The full lecture programme for the academic year 2019–20 is available in Appendix II.

Many of these lectures were audio-recorded and made available on the University Streaming Media Service: http://sms.cam.ac.uk as the ‘LCIL International Law Seminar Series’. These recordings have proved to be very popular.

Lectures and recordings were also widely advertised via the Centre’s social media channels and made available via the Centre’s website.

International Law and Political Engagement (ILPE) Series

During the last year, two International Law PhD students, Francisco José Quintana and Marina Veličković, organised a series of conversations held at the Centre. These were based on international legal scholarship, political engagement and the transformative potential of academia. Chaired by Francisco and Marina themselves each conversation centres around a theme, concept or a method and their relationship to political movements, struggles and margins from which they have emerged and within (and for) which they have emancipatory potential. All events - the first two at the Centre, and the third online were very well attended.

16 January 2020 - In Conversation with Gerry Simpson: On the Politics of Method

Speaker: Professor Gerry Simpson was appointed to a Chair in Public International Law at the LSE in January, 2016. He previously taught at the University of Melbourne (2007-2015), the Australian National University (1995-1998) and LSE (2000-2007) and has held visiting positions at ANU, Melbourne, NYU and Harvard.

5 February 2020 - In Conversation with Dr Luis Eslava: On International Law and the South - Luis Eslava, Kent Law School

Speaker: Dr Luis Eslava is a Reader in International Law and Co-Director of the Centre for Critical International Law at Kent Law School. He also holds visiting positions at Melbourne Law School and Universidad Externado de Colombia, and teaches regularly at Harvard Law School’s Institute for Global Law and Policy Workshops.

19 June 2020 - In Conversation with Dr Robert Knox and Dr Ntina Tzouvala: ‘On International Law and Critique in time of COVID-19’

Speaker: Ntina Tzouvala is an ARC Laureate Postdoctoral Fellow in International Law at Melbourne Law School. Her work focuses on the history and theory of international law, with a particular emphasis on international law and global capitalism.

Speaker: Robert Knox is a Senior Lecturer in Law at the University of Liverpool and an Editor of Historical Materialism and The London Review of International Law. He works primarily in the Marxist and critical legal traditions. His research touches on the relationship between international law, capitalism and imperialism (with a particular focus on questions of racialisation), on law’s key role in the birth and consolidation of neoliberalism and on the relationship between law and social change.
Legal Histories Beyond the State Seminar Series

In collaboration with the Centre for History and Economics and the Cambridge Centre for Political Thought, this series of seminars brings together historians, political theorists and lawyers who are interested in the social, economic and political dimensions of law in the modern period. The series is convened by Dr Surabhi Ranganathan, Co-Deputy Director of the Centre.

Hosted at the Centre, these seminars focus on the ways in which law and legal institutions order and organize space and people. This encompasses both imperial and international law, and domestic public and private law in its manifold influences on the nature and form of relations across borders.

In bringing together scholars from a wide range of disciplinary, methodological and geographic orientations, the series aims to strengthen and enrich the work being pursued in these disparate fields, but also test the limits of existing perspectives and lay the foundations for more fluid and productive interactions between them.

Some sessions are devoted to discussion of new, published work in the field, and others to the sharing of works-in-progress, whether draft articles, chapters or book prospectuses, with a core group of scholars from a variety of disciplines.

In the academic year 2019/20, the following sessions took place at the Centre. Megan Donaldson (UCL) and Annabel Brett (Cambridge; Centre for Political Thought) were co-conveners.

Thursday 13 February 2020

“The corporation and law in the making of global capitalism”

Dr Grietje Baars, City Law School, University of London

Thursday 30 January 2020

“Thinking Inside the Box: ‘Modular’ Historiography, the Ethiopian Empire and Other Subjects of International Law”

Dr Rose Parfitt, Kent Law School, University of Kent

Wednesday 30 October 2019

Joint Event with Centre for History and Economics - “Use, war, and commercial society. Changing paradigms of human relations with animals in the early modern law of nature and of nations”

Professor Annabel Brett, University of Cambridge

Evening Lectures

Evening Lecture: ‘Law and Politics in the UN Climate Regime: A Preview of the Santiago Climate Conference’ - Daniel Bodansky, Regents’ Professor at Arizona State University’s Sandra Day O’Connor College of Law.

Thursday 7 November 2019

Is implementation of the Paris Agreement on track? What are the Agreement’s prospects for success? The talk will review developments in the international climate change regime, including the recently concluded UN Climate Change Summit, analyze the state of play in the UNFCCC regime, and preview the upcoming conference of the parties (COP25) in Santiago in December.

Professor Daniel Bodansky is Regents’ Professor at Arizona State University’s Sandra Day O’Connor College of Law.

Evening Event: ‘The Role of the Military Legal Adviser during Armed Conflict and Peacetime Military Operations’ - Commander Dr Ian Park

11 February 2020

Commander Ian Park (Royal Navy International Law Legal Adviser) will offer a view on the role of the military legal adviser during armed conflict and peacetime military operations. He will consider recent armed conflicts in Iraq, Libya, Afghanistan, and Syria, and Royal Navy peacetime military operations in the Arabian Gulf, Indian Ocean and Mediterranean.

Ian was the winner of the outstanding performance by an HM Forces barrister at the UK Bar Awards.

Wednesday, 12 February 2020

Cyber-attacks on large organisations, including multi-national companies, have increased in number and severity in recent years. This lecture explores what that means for the obligation of full protection and security commonly found in bilateral investment treaties (BITs). Existing debates about whether it encompasses physical harm only or also legal risk may need to be updated. They should ask also whether States’ unique capacity, and in some cases assumption of responsibility, to guard against cyber-risks may expose them to claims by investors under BITs for preventable damage done to their investments by cyber-attacks.

Richard O’Brien practices in the fields of commercial law, professional liability and public law at 4 New Square in London.
Evening Event: ‘Controlling Climate Chaos - The Rising Tide of Climate Litigation and New Litigation Rules to Facilitate Access to Climate Justice’

20 February 2020

Major Climate Litigation Cases Around the World

Guest Speakers: Hon. Brian J. Preston Chief Judge of the Land and Environment Court, New South Wales, Australia, and David Estrin, Co-Chair, IBA Task Force on Climate Change Justice and Human Rights, Certified Environmental Law Specialist, Distinguished Adjunct Professor, Osgoode Hall Law School, York University, Toronto, Canada.

Evening event: ‘Recent Austrian practice in the field of international law’ - Helmut Tichy, Legal Adviser for the Austrian Foreign Ministry

6 March 2020

Helmut Tichy will speak about some of international law issues the Austrian foreign ministry had to address in recent years, including issues relating to codification projects of the International Law Commission, immunities of international organisations, human rights, and international humanitarian law.

During COVID-19 lockdown Centre Fellows and Partners wrote articles on a variety of topics which were published on the Centre’s website and social media channels. Below is a list those contributions which can be accessed at https://www.lcil.cam.ac.uk/blog.

The Lauterpacht Centre prepares and edits a number of publications in international law, including texts and law reports. These include the British Yearbook of International Law (co-edited by Prof Eyal Benvenisti), and the European Journal of International Law (by Co-Editor-In-Chief, Dr Sarah Nouwen).

International Law Reports (ILR)
Edited by Sir Christopher Greenwood GBE CMG QC and Ms Karen Lee, Centre Fellow & Vice-Mistress and Fellow of Girton College, Cambridge

The International Law Reports (ILR) have been reporting the decisions of national and international courts and tribunals on issues of public international law for over ninety years.

The series captures the full range of judgments and awards on issues of international law from the increasing number of international courts and tribunals while expanding coverage of national judgments.

Volumes 183 to 187 were published in print from 1 October 2019 to 30 September 2020, and the series is available online via Cambridge Law Reports (CLR) as well as Justis.

Further information: http://www.lcil.cam.ac.uk/publications/international-law-

International Convention on the Settlement of Investment Disputes Reports (ICSID)

The International Convention on the Settlement of Investment Disputes (ICSID) Reports detail cases decided under the Convention on the Settlement of Investment Disputes between States and Nationals of Other States 1965, and related decisions on international protection of investments. The Reports are currently edited by Professor Jorge Viruales and Professor Michael Waibel.

An international dispute settlement system which is of great and growing importance, the reports are now presented in these volumes in consolidated form for the first time, together with materials related to ICSID cases from national courts around the world.

All the decisions are presented in English with summaries, and are translated from other languages where necessary. These reports are an invaluable working tool for lawyers and scholars working on international investment issues and in international arbitration.

Volume 18 will be available in September 2020.

The Oxford Handbook of International Criminal Law (February 2020)

Edited by Kevin Heller, Frédéric Mégret, Sarah Nouwen, Jens Ohlin, and Darryl Robinson

The handbook provides a non-traditional inter-disciplinary approach to the study of international criminal law, incorporating insights from global history, geography, philosophy, and international relations; unique exploration of the most exciting theoretical and doctrinal developments in the field, and critically examines prevailing practices, orthodoxies, and received wisdoms. It also includes contributions from expert scholars outside of international law alongside chapters by some of the field's most respected and innovative scholars.

Exceptions in International Law (June 2020)

Edited by Lorand Bartels and Federica Paddeu

The first systematic and analytic study of exceptions in international law. Analysis combines legal philosophy with practical application. Features a diverse range of topics including the use of force, trade and investment, and the environment.

Cassese's International Law (August 2020)

Authors: Paola Gaeta, Jorge E Viruales and Salvatore Zappalá

Cassese's International Law is a new edition of an established classic. Authors Gaeta, Viruales, and Zappalá have built on the legacy of international law luminary Antonio Cassese to offer a thought-provoking and lucid account for today's undergraduates and postgraduates.

Presents complex legal reasoning in an accessible, readable way to form a rigorous and well-written text

Compares the traditional legal position with the developing and evolving law

Includes detailed yet accessible examinations of state responsibility and international criminal law

The late Judge Cassese's unrivalled expertise as a world-leading practitioner and highly-respected academic provides a breadth of knowledge and experience to enrich students' perspectives.

Cases and Materials on International Law (August 2020)

Authors: David Harris and Sandesh Sivakumaran

Harris and Sivakumaran’s Cases & Materials on International Law, widely recognised as the leading text of its kind, is a stimulating and wide-ranging work. Designed to support students throughout their studies, it provides a sound basis for any public international law course through an extensive selection of extracts and background information supplemented by authoritative commentary and expert analysis. This is the 9th edition of the classic work and the 2nd edition with Dr Sandesh Sivakumaran as co-author.

The UN Friendly Relations Declaration at 50 - An Assessment of the Fundamental Principles of International Law (September 2020)

Edited by Jorge E. Viñuales

The year 2020 marks the 75th anniversary of the United Nations Organisation, and the 50th anniversary of the United Nations Friendly Relations Declaration, which states the fundamental principles of the international legal order. In commemoration, some of the world’s most prominent international law scholars from all continents have come together to offer a comprehensive study of the fundamental principles of international law. Each chapter in this volume reflects decades of experience, work and reflection by the most authoritative voices of the field. At the same time, the book is an invitation to end narrow specialisation and re-engage with the wider body of rules and processes that lie at the foundations of the international legal order.

Europe’s Second Constitution Crisis, Courts and Community September 2020)

Author: Markus Gehring

The process of European constitutionalisation is met with extensive scepticism in current national legal and political spheres and in broader circles of public opinion across Europe. By shedding light on these concerns, this book reveals a widespread misunderstanding of constitutional federalism, which permeates the Member State courts, popular media, and many academic communities. A failure to address confusion over this fundamental concept is leading us towards impoverished development of the EU’s ‘Second Constitution’, and even ensuring that the role of both domestic and international European courts in enriching the constitutionalisation process is overlooked and undervalued. In a bid to avoid such consequences, this book explores how federalism and further constitutionalisation - rightly understood in a dialogue of the European courts - may actually change this process and allow a clearer advance toward Europe’s Second Constitution for, but also with, the people of Europe.

Brandon Research Fellowship 2019/20

The Brandon Research Fellowship 2019/20 was awarded to Ms Maryan Hassan, Chief Trade Negotiator & Head of Arbitration of the Office of the President of Somalia.

Unfortunately, due to the COVID-19 pandemic, Ms Hassan was not able to attend the Centre in person but worked remotely on her research project: Developing a suitable investment arbitration regime for a post-conflict G7+ state: the case for Somalia. We hope that she will be able to visit the Centre in person in the future.

The Fellowship is worth £4,500 and is funded by generous gifts by the late Mr Michael Brandon and his son, Mr Christopher Brandon. It is intended that the award cover a visit to the Centre of about 12 weeks; guidelines on eligibility are posted alongside the call for applications.

Synder Scholarship 2019/20

The recipient of this year’s Snyder Scholarship was Ms Sabienne Brutus, a recent graduate of Indiana University Maurer School of Law.

Ms Brutus worked on her research project Understanding lending contracts between the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank and small sovereign states whilst at the Centre from September to December 2019.

The Snyder Scholarship runs alongside the Snyder Lectures, which are held in memory of Dr Earl Snyder, a 1947 Indiana University law graduate. The visiting scholarship and lecture series form a partnership between the Lauterpacht Centre and the Indiana University Maurer School of Law.

Polonia Scholarship in International Law 2019/20

The 2019 Polonia Scholarship holder was Prof Marcin Menkes from the Warsaw School of Economics, who visited the Centre during the Michaelmas Term 2019. His research project at the Centre concerned Governance of International Investment Flows in the Age of Postmodernity.

The Polonia Scholarship is funded by a private gift to the Centre. The scholarship is worth £2,000 and is intended to fund a visit at the Centre of between 4 and 13 weeks. It is open to scholars of Polish or Israeli citizenship.

Bohdan Winiarski Scholarships in International Law 2021

The two Bohdan Winiarski scholarships are funded by the Embassy of the Republic of Poland in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland. The scholarships are named after the Polish Judge and international lawyer, Bohdan Winiarski.

Each scholarship has a value of £2,600 and is intended to support the costs of a research visit of at least 8 weeks at the Centre. Applications are open to nationals of the Visegrad Group States and Western Balkans States (one scholarship) and Eastern Partnership states (one scholarship).

Due to the pandemic, recipients of the 2020 scholarships have deferred taking up their award until 2021. The closing date for the 2021 Scholarship was extended to 31 July 2020; applications are currently under review.

Silk Road Scholarship

The 2019–20 Silk Road Scholarship was awarded to Dr E-Nuo Gu, Assistant Professor at Xi’an Jiaotong University’s School of Law, for research on A Study on the Latest Development of the Position of ISDS Reform in BRICS and China’s response.

Dr Gu arrived in December 2019 for a 12 month visit, and is the seventh Silk Road Scholar to be welcomed at the Centre, under an agreement with Xi’an Jiaotong University.
The research team working on the project on Customary International Humanitarian Law (IHL) of the British Red Cross and the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC), which the Lauterpacht Centre has hosted since its start in 2007, has enjoyed another successful year at the Centre.

The project provides geographically diverse information in the field of international humanitarian law (IHL) by up-dating the practice part of the ICRC’s award-winning online Customary IHL Database.

The database contains the 161 rules of customary IHL identified in the ICRC’s 2005 Customary IHL Study and the practice underpinning these rules. Its aim is to provide accurate and extensive information in the field of customary IHL and to make this information readily accessible to people and institutions interested in, or dealing with, IHL and armed conflict. The database covers national practice of States from all over the world, from Afghanistan to Zimbabwe, as well as practice found in international materials. The research team at the Lauterpacht Centre focuses on the analysis of national practice, while, since 2014, researchers based at Laval University in Canada have concentrated on up-dating international materials.

In the 2019–2020 academic year, new practice analysed by the research team at the Lauterpacht Centre was published for Djibouti, covering the years 2013–2017. Moreover, while the practice section continues to make worldwide practice available in English, in December 2019, the rules section of the database was made available in six additional languages: Arabic, Chinese, French, Portuguese, Russian and Spanish.

The year also brought some changes in the research team. In January 2020 the team said farewell to Hannah Maley as she moved on to new endeavours after being with the project for three years, while in August it welcomed Ms. Antoana Nedjalkova, who joined the project as a researcher. The team was also pleased to celebrate the fifth anniversary of Claudia Maritano with the project, the first two years as researcher, and now as team leader. The team also celebrated Emilie Fitzsimons’ third anniversary as researcher, as well as Silvia Scozia and Francesco Romani’s second anniversary with the team.

Lauterpacht Linked Partnership Programme

The Lauterpacht Linked Partnership Programme gives practitioners unique and exclusive access to people, events and research associated with the Centre, in exchange for their financial and proactive support to the Centre’s infrastructure and activities.

Membership of the programme is by invitation only and open to fifteen to twenty select law firms, barristers’ chambers, major companies with an interest in International law and foreign ministries.

The Lauterpacht Linked Partnership Programme deepens the relationship between a very select group of practitioners which supports the Centre and its wider community.

A central part of the programme is an annual careers event that allows Cambridge international law students the opportunity to interact with the world of practice right here at the Centre, and to receive advice on different career options in international law. The event was held on 6 December 2019.

We thank our Lauterpacht Linked Partners for their continued support and participation.

The Eli Lauterpacht Memorial Fund

The Eli Lauterpacht Fund was launched by the Centre in November 2017 in memory of Sir Eli to support the work of the Centre which he founded, directed and inspired.

Gifts to the fund are used to improve the Centre’s facilities, strengthen opportunities for scholars of international law, and to cement the Centre as one of the field’s leading research centres in the world.

The support the Centre receives is also used for three initiatives in particular: the Cambridge International Lawyers’ Archive, the Eli Lauterpacht Visiting Fellowships and the Eli Lauterpacht Events Fund.

The support received helps the Centre maintain its position as one of the leading research centres for international law in the world, consistent with Sir Eli’s vision.

The LCIL Cambridge International Lawyers’ Archives

The Centre is working to create an archive for the papers of international lawyers who have a strong connection to Cambridge, thereby attracting scholars from across the world who are interested in the history of international law. In addition to some of Sir Eli’s papers, other contributions received have come from Professor Clive Parry, Sir Derek Bowett and Sir Robert Jennings.

Eli Lauterpacht Visiting Fellowships

Sir Eli loved welcoming scholars from across the world to the Centre. Eli Lauterpacht Fellowships would allow the Centre to invite one scholar or practitioner, whose work is relevant to LCIL Fellows, to spend at least a month at the Centre and join in research collaborations.

Eli Lauterpacht Events Fund

The event fund enables the Centre to convene and host seminars on a wide range of topics, and to continue welcoming leading scholars and practitioners from diverse backgrounds.
The Centre is also grateful to members who served on the Management Committee during 2019/20:

- Professor Mark Elliott (Chair)
- Professor Eyal Benvenisti (Director)
- Dr Sarah Nouwen (Deputy Director)
- Dr Surabhi Ranganathan (Deputy Director)
- Dr Lorand Bartels
- Dr Fernando Lusa Bordin
- Dr Andrew Sanger
- Dr Sandesh Sivakumaran
- Professor Marc Weller
- Dr Rumiana Yotova

The Management Committee is supported by Centre Administrator, Anita Rutherford, whose efforts and dedication in the running of the Centre are gratefully appreciated.

For the year 2019/20 the Centre was fortunate to benefit from the experience and knowledge of 30 Centre Fellows, who cover between them a wide range of research areas of international law https://www.lcil.cam.ac.uk/research-expertise-lcil. The Centre is very grateful for their support.

Advisory Board

The Advisory Board assists the Centre’s Director and the Committee of Management of the Lauterpacht Centre in advising on activities, policies, fundraising and public relations. The role of the Board is advisory, assisting the LCIL to develop the Centre’s resources and capabilities, to expand its ties with other academic centres, with the legal bar and with the general public, and in general to improve the opportunities for research at the Centre.

The Board consists of seven members that represent various constituencies with whom the Centre engages, namely academia, the bar and the judiciary. Advisory Board members serve a three-year term beginning on 1 October of any year. The term is renewable once. Board members may return to the Board two years after the end of their second term. To ensure continuity, three members of the first board – determined by lot – will end their first term after two years.

The Management Committee appoints the Board, including the Board’s Chair and the Vice Chair who serve in these capacities for the duration of the term.

The Board held its inaugural meeting at the Centre in December 2019. During the meeting the Board received a report on the Centre's activities and plans, and offered very useful feedback on how the Centre was doing, as well as suggestions as to what the Centre's management could do to improve the research done in the Centre, and meet its future needs.
